

Mayan Doggie Show

Storyboard: Dr. Nicholas Hellmuth

Illustrations: Diana Sofia

Presenting the winner.

Amazing, this is her
fifth annual victory, congratulations!

Hey,
maybe we should start having our own shows.

*sigh* Fine.

These are the various kinds of dogs of the 4th-9th century Mayan people of Guatemala, Mexico, Honduras, etc.

I regret being overweight, but my owners keep giving me food so that I fatten up.

They want me nice and plump so they can eat me next year.

Maybe if we win this contest, we will be spared, and won't be barbequed.

Great performance by Pek with his "play dead" trick; surely will give him many points!

Aaauuuuhhh!!!

For more information on flora
visit:

www.maya-ethnobotany.org

For more information on fauna:

www.maya-ethnozoology.org

MayaToons are produced by the 100% Guatemalan team of FLAAR Mesoamerica, coordinated by FLAAR (USA). You can see previews on www.MayanToons.org.

You can learn more about our comic book creation and illustrator teams on

[www.mayan-characters-value-
based-education.org](http://www.mayan-characters-value-based-education.org).

We will also address the problems of abandoned "street dogs" in a future illustrated book.